

A Difference

difference n.,v.

1. a significant change in or effect on a situation
{Webster's Dictionary}

I could make a difference.

I bet you I could.

I could pick up trash on the side of the road,
but would you put it back there?

I could do my homework everyday,
but would you grade it?

I could send canned food to starving people,
but would they eat it?

I could say "hello" to everyone I know,
but would you be as courteous and say it back?

Anybody who's anybody can make a difference.

It takes more than one civilian to make a complete difference though.

Sometimes there is no need for a difference in things.
Most likely there is.

So really the statement should be.....

"You and I could make a difference by....."